In the Wilderness and on the Battlefield With your Civil War Ancestor

Have you ever wondered what day to day life was like for your Civil War ancestor? Many amateur genealogy researchers have found their ancestors in military service and pension records, but wouldn't you like to know how they lived, marched, camped and fought? At the January 12, 2010 meeting of the Indian River Genealogical Society, Certified Genealogist Sharon Tate Moody will answer those questions and more in her lecture titled "In the Wilderness and on the Battlefield with your Civil War Ancestor".

As a graduate of the Georgia Police Academy and retired after a 28-year career in law enforcement, Sharon Tate Moody is a real sleuth! She is also a past president of the Association of Professional Genealogists, and her column, Heritage Hunting, appears weekly in the Tampa Tribune. Ms Moody's lectures combine her appreciation for history and genealogy with her law enforcement investigative experience and sense of humor.

The IRGS will meet Tuesday the 12th at 9:30 AM in the large first floor conference room of the Indian River County Main Library, 1600 21st Street, Vero Beach. The public is invited to this and all general meetings of the society, which are free and open to the public. There will be a brief business session followed by refreshments. The program will begin about 10:45 AM.

For questions about this meeting, please call (772) 492-4012. To learn more about the IRGS, upcoming classes for beginners and the annual Valentine Seminar, please check the website www.irgs.org.
